REVIEW

OF THE

SEA-BORNE TRADE

OF THE

BOMBAY PRESIDENCY

For the Year ending 31st March 1902.

The total value of the sea-borne trade of the Bombay Presidency is shown below for a period of five years :—

	1897-98.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1900-1901.	1901-1902.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Foreign Trade ...	74,23,43,676	80,71,30,072	78,56,44,854	69,74,17,484	87,19,28,956
Coasting Trade ...	26,53,68,060	26,16,58,955	31,14,81,585	31,43,40,877	29,29,20,215
Total ...	1,00,77,11,736	1,06,87,89,027	1,09,71,26,439	1,01,17,58,361	1,16,48,49,171

The trade with ports outside India is classed as "Foreign Trade," and that with Foreign Indian Ports, with British Ports in other Presidencies, as well as British Ports within the Presidency as "Coasting Trade." In consequence of the fact that in the trade between British Ports within the Presidency the imports of one port appear again as the exports of another, the figures representing this trade show transactions of exactly double the actual magnitude. These figures are as follows for the five years starting from 1897-98 :—721, 700, 766, 733 and 697 lákhs.

On a comparison of the year's trade with that of 1900-1901, it will be seen that notwithstanding a substantial decrease in the coasting trade, there is an increase in the aggregate total, amounting to over 15 crores or 15 per cent. This is all the more satisfactory as the decrease in the coasting trade was due to a falling off in that movement of grain to famine-stricken tracts which was such a prominent feature of the coasting trade of the previous year.

The figures for foreign trade similarly point to a recovery of normal conditions. The import of grain and pulse was reduced by 56 lákhs, while cotton goods, coal, machinery, and manufactured articles increased, thus indicating a return of prosperity to local industries, and of consuming power to the general population. The increase amounted to nearly 200 lákhs.

The largest increase is, however, one of 1,057 lákhs in the exports of Indian produce. The magnitude of this trade is a direct indication of the general agricultural and industrial prosperity of the tracts of country in touch with the port of Bombay, and it will be found that on the one hand the export of manufactured articles, which practically means cotton manufactures, has touched the highest figure since 1887-88, while on the other, seeds and raw cotton, which are the principal agricultural products exported, have similarly reached the highest figure for many years. The persistence of the low exports of grain, which is only 21 lákhs more than 1900-1901, indicates that the recovery of normal conditions is still far from complete.

FOREIGN TRADE.

The following table shows the value of the trade for each year during the past ten years. Government transactions are shown in this statement, but they will not be referred to in the subsequent remarks or tables :—

The principal features of the trade in the year under review are noticed below:—

I.—Animals, Living.

Of the increase under this head Rs. 41,000 is due to horses. There is a drop of 48 horses and Rs. 36,160 value in the imports from the United Kingdom. The number and value of the horses from Australia is practically the same as last year, but Queensland has an increase of over 900 horses representing Rs. 5,28,500 at the expense of N. S. Wales and Victoria, where the exceptional demands of South Africa seem to have more or less exhausted stocks. Another feature of the year's trade is an increase of 703 horses representing 1·86 lákhs from Persia. Since the outbreak of Plague in Bombay this trade has been in an unsettled condition, but it has now more than regained its former dimensions. In addition to the increase found here it is understood that considerable numbers are now being imported into N. India by the Quetta-Seistan Route. The increased imports seem to be in response to a demand for this class of horse for remounts.

II.—Articles of Food and Drink.

The decrease of 74·14 lákhs under this head amounts to 14 per cent. of the total trade. The values of the principal articles in the group were as follows for the two years 1900-1901 and 1901-1902:—

Sugar (refined).—The receipts of refined sugar from the principal sources of supply have been as follows in the past five years:—

	1897-98.		1898-99.		1899-1900.		1900-1901.		1901-1902.

When the import duties were imposed in March 1894 the prices of the three classes of sugar were—Beet Rs. 14 per cwt., Mauritius cane Rs. 12 and China cane Rs. 13. Since then the prices have been steadily declining and in March 1902 were Rs. 10, Rs. 10 and Rs. 10-8-0, respectively, showing decreases of 28½, 16½ and 19 per cent. In addition to this it must be remembered that since the countervailing duties were applied in 1899, beet sugar has suffered a further reduction in price amounting to at least 30 per cent. Notwithstanding the fall in price the average value of the imports of Mauritius sugar has been 16½ per cent. more in the last five years than in the five preceding years, the average figures being 128·78 lákhs for the five years 1892-93 to 1896-97 and 150·09 lákhs for the five years 1897-98 to 1901-1902. A comparison of the present year's imports of Mauritius sugar with these averages shows that though the trade has not progressed proportionately with the market demands, it has at least maintained its position, and more than maintained it, when the increased value of the rupee in recent years is taken into consideration. Since 1897-98 the total imports of refined sugar have increased by 44 per cent. and the proportion of beet has increased from 14 to 25 per cent., in the face of continually decreasing prices. The attempts hitherto made to deal with the imports of bounty-fed sugar are sufficiently known. The recent legislation affording additional protection, pending the enforcement of the Brussels International Conference, had no effect on the imports of the year under report.

Grain and Pulse.—The drop of 55·96 lákhs under this head, though it still leaves the imports above the average, is proof of a return to normal conditions, more especially as it was accompanied by a drop of over 3 crores in the imports of rice from Burma.

Provisions.—The decrease of 1·47 lákhs from last year's figure of 79·6 lákhs still leaves the imports under this head far above the average for the previous five years.

Dates, principally from Muskat and Turkey in Asia, the largest item under this head (28·0 lákhs), show a decrease of 1·08 lákhs from the figure of last year. This decrease was due to Muskat, as there was a substantial increase of 1·61 lákhs or 11½ per cent. from Turkey in Asia. Fish-maws and shark-fins, principally from the Persian Gulf, show an increase of 1·76 lákhs. Dried fruits and vegetables, another principal article, have an increase of 3·51 lákhs, the whole of which is due to almonds. The greater part of the almonds have hitherto come from Persia, which shows an increase of 1½ lákhs, but Italy and France, from which the imports were small, have this year sent them to the value of nearly 2 lákhs. The fact that this trade should make such headway in a year when the ordinary sources of supply were well up to the average, is remarkable. The United Kingdom, from which the bulk of the oilman's stores comes, leads the list of countries with 18·89 lákhs, Persia 17·24, Turkey in Asia 16·20, Arabia 13·64, France 3 09 and Italy 1·71 and Mekran with 1·93 from dried and salted fish, &c., are the next largest contributors.

For the increase of 2·19 lákhs, beer is responsible, as wine shows a decrease which more than compensates for a slight increase under spirits. Of the 14·64 lákhs worth of beer imported, 13·43 lákhs comes from the United Kingdom and nearly 1 lákh from Germany. The recent bounties to troops are probably not unconnected with this rise under the imports of beer. Simultaneously with this rise a decrease of Rs. 35,171 in hops may be noticed which would seem to show that Indian breweries have not shared in the harvest. Of whisky, with 9·72 lákhs, which is the largest item under spirits, 97 per cent. comes from the United Kingdom. There has been a decrease of Rs. 12,063 or 37 per cent. in the cheap whisky "made in Germany", and brandy also shows a decrease, while there is an increase of ·82 lákh in whisky. A small increase has also taken place under perfumed spirit. Of the total import of 50·69 lakhs, the share of the United Kingdom is 64½ per cent., of France 21 per cent. and of Germany 5 per cent.

Tea.—The following table shows the quantity and value of the imports from the chief sources of supply :—

The heavy decrease of 9·42 lákhs, principally in Ceylon and Java black and China green tea, which are mostly imported for re-export purposes, is explained by the fact that Persia, which is the chief consumer, has not been able to take the usual quantity owing to bad seasons. In addition to this Russia is making determined efforts to wrest this trade from India, and Russian steamers now running regularly to the Persian Gulf ports get a share of the trade with Persia and Asiatic Turkey which was formerly under the control of India.

The popularity of the new Quetta-Nushki-Meshed route may, however, in time counteract the loss of trade to Persia by sea.

Spices.—The increase of 2·54 lákhs is due to cloves, which are the largest item in this class, being 14·36 lákhs out of the total of 22·10. Cloves come to Bombay principally from Zanzibar for re-export after sorting. There was a decrease in the import of betel-nuts from the Straits, local produce having made good the deficiency. The present figure of 2·47 lákhs is smaller than any since 1897-98. Imports of pepper, cardamoms and ginger also show decreases.

Coffee.—There is a still further drop of 368 cwt. in weight and Rs. 37,401 in value, which makes the present year's imports lower than those in any of the preceding five years. The decrease occurs in cheap Brazilian coffee imported from Austria.

III.—Metals and Manufactures of Metals.

A.—Hardware and Cutlery.—The value of the trade under this head with the chief sources of supply during the last decade was as follows :—

The continuous increase in German goods is very significant, more especially as it does not mean so much the usurpation of the trade of other countries as competition with articles of Indian manufacture. Of the total amount of 11·98 lákhs of German goods, 11·22 lákhs represent "Hardware—Other Sorts." Probably half this amount is due to enamelled-ware in which there is a yearly increasing trade, replacing more and more the native utensils made of metal. Many of the other German articles are similarly designed to supplant articles of native manufacture, and in fact the greater portion of the trade would seem to be carried on with this special object in view. The decrease in Austria occurs under the same heading as the increase in Germany with which she competes very keenly. Of the decrease in the imports from the United Kingdom, 1·67 lákhs occur in implements and tools, and is probably due to the decreased imports of tools for famine labourers. Cutlery amounting to 5·50 lákhs is divided almost equally between the United Kingdom and Belgium.

The only very considerable increases over last year are in copper and steel. The increased imports of copper are due to the lower prices, more especially towards the end of the year after the American Syndicate which largely controlled the markets came to grief. As the stocks in the Port Trust godowns were smaller at the end of March 1902 than on the corresponding date last year, it would appear that the increased imports have been finding their way into the hands of the retail buyers. The imports are still far below those of ten years ago when they reached 124 lákhs. It is probable that the high prices of copper in recent years which put copper and brass utensils beyond the means of many, gave an impetus to that trade in enamelled-ware which is supplied so largely from Germany and Austria. The prevailing market prices of steel have decreasd by about 20 per cent. and it is probable that in consequence the stocks are larger than usual. A substantial increase of 4·68 lákhs under hoop iron and hoop steel principally used for baling and packing was a necessary accompaniment of the increased prosperity of the cotton trade. An increase of 3·25 lákhs or 26½ per cent. in iron galvanized sheets shows the increasing popularity of this article for roofing, &c. The decrease in iron sheets and plates, beams, pillars and girders, together with an increase in similar articles of steel seems to show that steel is replacing iron for many purposes, now that the prices of the two have come more closely together. An increase of 1·91 lákhs in the new trade in German silver may also be noted. It is characteristic of the German system of catering for the markets, that a very large quantity of this metal which is used for making drinking cups and other utensils should be put up in cut circular pieces which only need to be hammered into shape.

C.—Machinery and Millwork.—The value of the imports under this head for the last five years is noted in the margin. During the last two years the imports of mill machinery were adversely affected by the cotton famine of 1899-1900 and absence of a demand for Indian yarn in China. The removal of these causes has tended to improve the imports, which are, however, far below those of 1898-99—the year immediately preceding. Of the total trade, 96 per cent. belongs to the United Kingdom and the balance to the United States.

D.—Railway Plant and Rolling Stock.—The value of the trade for the last five years is shown in the margin. A certain amount of the decrease is due to the transfer of the imports on behalf of the G. I. P. Railway to the heading of Government Stores. The amount of Railway material imported in the past five years as Government Stores was beginning from 1897-98, 31·29, 31·20, 26·92, 48·21 and 79·60 lákhs. These figures show that the materials and plant for the increasing mileage which has been added to Indian Railways in the last few years have been procured through other ports more directly affected by the extensions.

IV.—Chemicals, Drugs, Medicines and Narcotics, and Dyeing and Tanning Materials.

Chemicals.—The increase of 15 per cent. under this head makes the year the largest in the decade. Of the total amount—18·47 lákhs—15 lákhs worth is classed as 'others' and it is under this division that the principal increase has taken place. The increase appears to be due to the activity prevailing in mills and factories during the year, and chemicals admitted free of duty for the cotton industry alone show an increase of Rs. 87,913.

Drugs, Medicines and Narcotics.—The list of articles comprised under this head is a very long one and the imports fluctuate yearly, more, however, in value than in quantity. Noticeable among these fluctuations is an increase of 1½ lákhs, or 54 per cent., in the value of imports of camphor from Japan. Tobacco is included under this head, and cigars and cigarettes show a combined increase of ·80 lákhs or 20 per cent. The import of cigarettes especially is steadily increasing. In 1897-98 they were, including cigars, valued at 2·18 lákhs and now stand at 4·29 lákhs. The increase has been principally in imports of cigarettes of American tobacco from the United Kingdom. The value of the cigars imported principally from the United Kingdom was only ·56 lákhs.

Owing to the activity in the Cotton Trade and the small imports of the preceding two years, there is a large increase in the imports of aniline and alizarine dyes. Owing to combination between producers there has been a large increase in the prices of alizarine dyes, and though the quantity imported was only 20 per cent. in excess of that of last year, the value shows an increase of 73 per cent.

In this place it may be noted that the value of indigo imported by coasting vessels declined by Rs. 2,29,420.

V.—Oils.

Out of the total imports of 125·66 lákhs 118·50 represents mineral oils, principally petroleum products. The following table shows the quantities, sources and values of the supply of mineral oils for the last five years :—

The most noticeable features of the year's trade are the fall in prices, the continued decrease in the imports from America and increase from Russia. The imports of kerosine oil from America is now practically confined to case oil of the highest quality with 150° flash point. Of the total quantity of over 28 million gallons imported from Russia, nearly 13 millions was in bulk. The import of bulk-oil from Russia started in 1896-97 with about $3\frac{1}{2}$ million gallons and has been steadily increasing ever since. Notwithstanding the large imports of oil from Russia in the last year, the trade does not seem to have been speculative. The markets have readily absorbed the increase, and the stocks in the hands of importers are not larger than usual. The establishment of depôts at convenient places all along the coast has stimulated demand, and the export by coasting vessels alone shows an increase of nearly $1\frac{1}{4}$ million gallons. The decrease in "other sorts" is due to a fall in price, not decrease in quantity.

Lower prices and easier freights have induced heavy imports of foreign coal during the year, but it is very satisfactory to note that notwithstanding competition the Indian coal has more than maintained its position, the quantity being larger than it has ever been before, and the fall in price proportionately less than half that of other varieties. The heavy import of English coal was largely due to speculation, and purchasers had in many cases to pay heavy forfeits for their inability to take delivery. Large quantities of English coal are now lying on the hands of importers and will be a clog on the trade for some years, as deterioration from exposure will shut it out from the ordinary markets for the best varieties, and leave it to be worked off slowly.

Cotton (Raw) :—The failure of the Indian cotton crop in 1899-1900 and 1900-1901 caused the heavy imports during these two years. That the imports are still very heavy is due to the mills working longer hours during the year, and to the fact that during the upward tendency of prices in 1900-1901 large quantities were purchased by speculators and only arrived in the present year. The heaviest drop is of 30·11 lákhs, or 80 per cent. in American followed by 8·85 lákhs or 18 per cent. in Egyptian. Persian cotton, which is imported for mixture with Indian varieties before re-exportation, also shows a drop of 5·58 lákhs or 80 per cent.

Jewellery :—The increase of 26 per cent. under this heading is entirely in unset pearls. In the year 1900 the very high rates given by speculators who hoped to realize fabulous prices at the Paris Exhibition induced large sales of pearl ornaments by the wealthier classess. These ornaments are now being replaced and hence the heavy imports.

Silk (Raw) :—Although the decline in value amounts to 25 per cent., the decline in weight is only 18 per cent. which would seem to show that high prices have to a certain extent interfered with imports. Almost the whole supply is drawn from China.

Wood (Teak, &c.) :—Teak is the largest item in this trade and the following table shows the quantity and value imported from the two chief sources of supply during the last five years :—

	1897-98.		1898-99.		1899-1900.		1900-1901.		1901-1902.

The decrease is probably due to the heavy imports of last year having left considerable stocks to be worked off. The markets were, however, steady throughout the year. The Burma figures taken from the coasting trade statistics are given for comparison with the foreign import.

Wool (Raw) :—The increase in wool is due to Persia, and though the supply is better than that of the preceding two years, it is not yet up to that of 1897-1898.

VII.—Articles Manufactured and Partly Manufactured.

A.—Yarns and Textile Fabrics.

Cotton Twist and Yarn.—The import of yarn of counts under 26 is insignificant. In the following table the imports of counts over 26 is contrasted with the production in the local mills for a period of five years. The figures are in millions of pounds:—

	Yarn imported.			Yarn locally produced.			Total local produce, all counts.
	26s to 30s.	31s and upwards.	Total.	26s to 30s.	31s and upwards.	Total.
	Lbs.	Lbs.	Lbs.	Lbs.	Lbs.	Lbs.	Lbs.
1897-98	4·71	7·2	11·91	10·91	4·99	15·9	324
1898-99	4·23	5·45	9·68	10·72	4·66	15·38	368
1899-1900	3·64	6·2	9 84	11·72	5·35	17·07	371
1900-1901	1·86	3·71	5·57	12·28	11·09	23·37	243
1901-1902	2 44	5·06	7·5	17·2	11·2	28·4	415

It will be seen from inspection of these figures that there has been large increase in the local production of yarn of the higher counts since 1899, and a corresponding decrease in imports. This appears to have been due to the heavy imports of the longer staples from America and Egypt owing to the failure of crops in 1900. The absence in most Bombay mills of any artificial means of supplying humidity to keep the atmospheric conditions from constant variations adds greatly to the difficulty of spinning the poorer staples into anything but very low counts, and good crops always mean a more than proportionate production of these easier counts. The increase in the local production of 26—30 for use in local mills also indicates a tendency to manufacture superior cloths of standard varieties, which escape a portion of the cotton duties by conformity to the general tariff descriptions of the inferior standard on which the tariff is based. English yarn is largely used by the hand-loom weavers also, and the larger imports of the year are evidence of the resumption of this industry which was disorganised during the prevailing distress of the previous two years. The accumulation of stocks at the end of the year was 3,671 bales against 2,286 at the end of the preceding year. It is, however, no larger than is necessary to keep a brisk market steady.

Cotton Manufactures.—The increase of nearly 2 crores is very satisfactory more especially as it is not accompanied by any large accumulation of stocks, the return of a good harvest having kept the markets fairly strong. In the following table the imports of grey, white and coloured goods are contrasted for 10 years:—

	Grey.		White.		Coloured.

The increase of greys is only in value, due to a deplacement of the heavier sorts, such as shirtings, jeans and drills, in favour of local manufactures, and increase in finer sorts, such as saris, dhooties and scarves. There have been, however, heavy decreases in mulls and jaconets, which are made of the finer yarns, and of T. cloths, which are mostly re-exported to the Persian Gulf. The increase in whites occurs in all varieties, but is most marked in jaconets, mulls, nainsooks and fancy goods.

The improvement of 110 lákhs in coloured goods makes the year one of the largest in the decade. All the sub-heads show an increase, but it is most marked in prints, chintzs and dyed shirtings. Cotton hosiery shows an increase of 3·59 lákhs or over 45 per cent., mostly from Italy. Of the total imports of cotton manufactures, 8⅔ crores or 94 per cent. comes from the United Kingdom.

Flax.—There is an increase of Rs. 23,875 in canvas and 1·79 lákhs in piece-goods, the total increase being 2·24 lákhs or 39 per cent. Of the total imports 92 per cent. is from the United Kingdom.

Silk.—The increase of 5·58 lákhs is entirely due to imports from the Continent of Europe, the imports from China and Japan, the other two chief sources of supply, being less by 4·27 lákhs or 11 per cent., and 1·74 lákhs or 14½ per cent. It may be remarked that the substitution of goods made of silk mixed with other materials, for pure silk goods seems to be one of the principal reasons for the increased trade with Europe at the expense of China and Japan. Of the increase of 11½ lákhs from Europe, 7½ falls to France, 1 to Italy and 2½ to Belgium. A steady increase in the imports of "other sorts," consisting chiefly of noil and warp silk, which comes in almost equal parts from the United Kingdom and Italy, should also be noticed.

Wool.—Woollen piece-goods, which amount to 70·15 lákhs out of the total imports of 82·76 this year, show an increase of 11·41 lákhs or 19½ per cent. Germany has an increase of 6¾ lákhs under this head, and the United Kingdom 5¼. The popularity of cheap German imitations of Bradford Cloth among natives using serge and other fancy coatings has greatly added to the imports from Germany.

A decrease of 1·51 lákhs took place in shawls, probably due to a surplus of the heavy imports of the previous year having to be worked off.

B.—Apparel.

Under boots and shoes there is an increase of 1·11 lákhs or 21 per cent. Of the total imports, 88 per cent. is from the United Kingdom, which seems to occupy the same position with respect to cheap boots that Germany does in cheap hardware. Exclusive of this trade, there is in other apparel an increase of 6·07 lákhs or 12¾ per cent., to which Austria contributes about 2¾ lákhs, France 2¼, Japan 1¼, Italy 1 and Russia half a lákh, while there are decreases of over half a lákh from the United Kingdom and three-quarters of a lákh from China. The increases in the case of Austria and Japan merely bring the figures up to those of former years. From France and Italy yearly increasing quantities of felt caps and silk and cotton lace made after the Indian fashion swell the figures, while the increase in the Russian trade is due to the enterprise of Bokhara merchants who have established a regular trade between Batoum and Bombay.

C.—Other Articles.

The imports of the principal manufactured articles included under this head are shown below for the years 1900-1901 and 1901-1902 :—

Foreign Trade.

The imports of glass and glassware show the largest increase among these articles, and every department of the trade has shared in it. Bottles have increased by 33½ per cent., and the increase is principally in the bottles for aerated waters which are yearly becoming more popular with natives. Sheet and plate glass have increased by 56 per cent., the large building operations in Bombay having probably stimulated the demand. A similar reason accounts for the increases under oil-cloth, building and painting materials. Beads and false pearls have also increased, and the trade in the former has been transferred from China to Austria and Italy. The large increase of 10·86 lákhs or 45 per cent. in "Other glassware" which includes lampware, bangles and other sundries, is however most remarkable as 8·31 lákhs have gone to Austria which, in addition to its own goods, sends out large quantities of glassware made in Germany. The cheapness as well as the more extended distribution of kerosine oil every year appears to have given a great stimulus to the imports of cheap lamps, and Austria and Germany have practically made this trade their own. Austria has also wrested the trade in Bangles from China and the imports this year amounting to over 6 lákhs have overstocked the market. These countries also cater for the demand for the small coloured lights which are now so fashionable for illuminations at all native gatherings. The increase under books is due largely to the imports of costly books for sale on the instalment system. Motor cars contribute half a lákh to the imports of carriages. The increase of clocks and watches is of the cheap Swiss variety. Of the total imports of instruments 4·17 represent musical, 3·54 photographic and 9·88 scientific and miscellaneous. The share of the United Kingdom in the trade is 66 per cent. and of the increase ·96 lákh is under musical, ·35 under photographic and ·36 scientific. The value of the type-writers imported was Rs. 63,321. In matches Sweden and Norway have increased at the expense of Japan whose share of the trade has decreased from 8·21 lákhs to 6·51. The rise in the imports of paper and pasteboard is shared by all varieties, but in the better classes the imports from the United Kingdom have declined in favour of Austria. In the miscellaneous varieties included under "other kinds" the United Kingdom has however had more than proportionate share of the increase.

The decrease under candles only reduces the figure slightly below the average of the preceding five years and under umbrellas the decrease is due largely to the substitution for the finished article of parts to be put together in India. There is a steady increase of 24 per cent. in the value of articles imported by post.

An inspection of these figures will show that Bombay is steadily ceasing to occupy that commanding position as a port of collection of produce and distribution of foreign merchandise for the East Coast of Africa and Western Asia which she formerly held. The establishment of direct communication by sea between Europe and these countries must in time have had this result, but it will be seen that the general disorganisation of trade on account of Plague gave an impetus to foreign competition which hurried on the natural course of events. The fall in the exports to the Persian Gulf is most remarkable. Cotton Goods and Cotton Twist and Yarn alone represent 52 per cent. of the total re-exports and it is a satisfactory compensation that the fall in these during the last 10 years should have been accompanied by an increase of the exports to the same countries of local manufactures.

II.—Exports of Indian Merchandise.

The following table shows for the last five years the value of the exports of Indian Merchandise under the groups into which they are classified in the trade returns :—

From inspection of these figures it will appear that the bulk of the trade falls under divisions II, IV, VI and VII, and further analysis shows that the following specific articles give these groups their respective significance :—

	1897-98.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1900-1901.	1901-1902.

VII.—Cotton, Twist and Yarn ...	594	590	625	401	824
Cotton Manufactures	61	60	68	58	66

It is accordingly to variations in these articles that large fluctuation in the export trade must be attributed. The three articles, raw cotton, cotton twist and yarn and seeds form about 75 per cent. of the total exports, and it is the increase in these which raises the present year so far above its predecessors. Again looking to the destination of these three articles we find that 51 per cent. of the raw cotton goes to Japan and 10 per cent. to China. 95 per cent. of the cotton yarn is to China and of the seeds nearly 38 per cent. to France and 23 per cent. to Belgium. In addition to this practically the whole of the opium is exported to China. The net result is that China stands first in the list of countries consuming Indian merchandise with nearly $\frac{1}{3}$ of the total, Japan second and France a bad third.

II.—Articles of Food and Drink.

In the following statement the exports of the principal articles comprised in this class are compared for the two years 1900-1901 and 1901-1902 :—

Sugar	2,94,303	2,80,630
Tea	13,03,472	13,56,559

Coffee.—There is a drop in quantity of nearly 33 per cent. from the last year, and the price has, moreover, fallen by about 8 per cent. The trade of Bombay, however, only represents an insignificant portion of the Indian crop.

The improvement in the present year does not bring the exports to anything near their normal proportions. Wheat, which in 1898-99 was exported to the value of nearly 340 lákhs, is now down to 4½. Though the harvests of the principal sources of supply were good, local prices were too favourable for export. It may be noted that Australian wheat to the value of 8·30 lákhs and wheat from Karáchi to the value of 96 lákhs were similarly absorbed to meet local demands. The increase in flour is satisfactory. It has maintained its position fairly well all through the famine years, owing to a constant demand from Aden, Arabia, Ceylon and Indian emigrants in African countries.

The drop of 14½ per cent. is almost entirely due to decreased exports of fishmaws and sharkfins principally to China.

Tea.—Though the increase in the quantity exported was 9 per cent., the increase in value is only 4 per cent., showing the lower range of prices. Persia and Asiatic Turkey as usual take the largest quantities. It is satisfactory to notice that although the export of China tea to Persia has fallen off, Indian has increased.

III.—Metals and Manufactures of Metals.

B.—Metals.—The export of manganese ore from Bombay, which only started in 1900-1901 with 4·48 lákhs, contributes 8·15 lákhs to the figures of the present year. (N.B.—It may here be noted that the values of the manganese for 1900-1901 given throughout the statistical portion of this publicationore are exactly double the actual values.) The addition of this important item leaves the figures of the years previous to 1900-1901 far behind. Notwithstanding the increase in manganese ore, there is a decrease of 7 lákhs from the trade of 1900-1901 almost entirely due to brass and copper. The cessation of acute distress which drove the poorer classes to throw their brass and copper vessels upon the market and of the export of Baroda copper coins to Europe are the proximate causes of the decrease. During the year 1900-1901, the bulk of the manganese ore was shipped to the United Kingdom, but Germany and the United States now take the greater portion and the exports to the United Kingdom have declined.

The principal articles of export comprised under this heading are—

	1897-98.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1900-1901.	1901-1902.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Dyeing and Tanning Materials...	42,97,968	41,83,846	45,16,102	40,79,827	42,86,833

Opium.—The heavy decrease of 105·13 lákhs representing 7,173½ chests is due to China. The high price which the Indian exporters demanded through an under-estimate of the Málwa crop encouraged the increasing tendency of the Chinese to consume their native drug.

Tobacco.—There is an abnormally large increase in the exports of unmanufactured tobacco to Aden, the chief receiving and distributing centre of this trade. After two years of small imports, Aden received this year tobacco to the extent of Rs. 11,01,067, showing an improvement of Rs. 7,15,082 or 185 per cent. This is the largest export ever made. There have been very full crops during the last year and the lower prices have enabled Aden to replenish its exhausted stocks. Besides distributing the tobacco in the interior of Arabia and the Red Sea Coast, Aden has factories now, where cigarettes are prepared after European fashion, and there are growing imports of these articles into India.

Dyeing and Tanning Materials.—Indigo, myrabolams and turmeric are the only important articles in this class. The values of the exports for the last five years have been as follows:—

	1897-98.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1900-1901.	1901-1902.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Indigo	18,47,967	11,47,224	12,25,107	10,62,718	6,02,107
Myrabolams	23,08,849	27,47,139	29,70,129	26,49,395	31,38,393
Turmeric	1,40,700	2,86,060	3,18,830	3,66,786	5,43,047

Indigo.—There is a heavy drop of Rs. 4,60,611 or over 43 per cent. in indigo. There is no compensating feature in this decline as the price is as poor as last year's. The largest decline is in the exports to Persia, which represent about 76 per cent. of the Bombay trade, and which are worse this year by Rs. 3,05,698. This is probably due to the large quantity exported last year, as well as to the bad season from which parts of Persia suffered. It must, however, be remembered in this connection that a quantity of indigo goes to Persia by the new overland Quetta-Nushki-Meshed route. The exports to European countries suffer every year as the struggle between the synthetic and natural indigo becomes more acute, and the issue unfortunately is not likely to be in favour of the Indian produce.

The increases in myrabolams and turmeric are due to the better crops and are spread over all importing countries.

V.—Oils.

The heavy increase of 29 per cent. is due to essential oils, in which there has been an active demand and steady prices throughout the year.

VI.—Raw Materials.

In the following table the value of the exports of the principal articles comprised in this class are shown for five years:—

After two years of very small exports, the present year with the full crops of 1901 to draw upon, totals up to 4,445,251 cwts. and Rs. 11,25,01,454, which makes the year largest since 1891-92. Japan alone, with a phenomenal increase of over 4 crores, takes more than half the total exports, and China also shows an increase of over 88 lákhs. Exports to European countries, except in the case of the United Kingdom and Belgium, have increased in quantity though the value has suffered owing to a drop from the high prices of the previous year.

Hides and Skins and Horns.—The large exports in the two previous years were due to the cattle mortality, and have been noticed in previous reports.

Manures, Animal Bones.—Like hides and skins and horns exports in this article were unduly stimulated by the great cattle mortality during the last two years. The decline therefore of Rs. 5,86,038 or about 18 per cent. reduces the trade to its usual proportions. This trade, though of recent origin, as observed before is a steadily growing one and the exports this year though much smaller than the last two years are larger than in any previous normal years. Of the total exports of 27·06 lákhs, 15·50 goes to the United Kingdom, 8·89 to Germany and 2·24 to Belgium.

Seeds.—The values of the various kinds of seeds exported are shown below for a period of 5 years :—

The increase in the exports of all varieties with the better harvests was to be expected and calls for no remarks, except in the case of cotton seed, the trade in which is recent and remarkable. The exports prior to 1901-1902 were insignificant. In that year they rose to 4·73 lákhs and now stand at 45·34 lákhs. Large quantities of this seed have always been available in India, and judging from the statistical figures the value has not shown any rise to account for the exports. The values as recorded were Rs. 2 annas 9 per cwt. in 1897-98, when the export was only 5,738 cwt., and in only one year since then, viz., 1898-99, when it fell to Rs. 2 anna 1, has it been lower than the present year's figure of Rs. 2 annas 5. The generally low freights in recent years, together with the fact that an improved method of cleaning the seed before export has effected a further and very great reduction in the cost of freight, has undoubtedly done much to encourage the export, as in an article of such low value as cotton seed freight must form a very great factor in the cost at the port of delivery. The fact however remains that at the price at which it can now be supplied, there is a good demand for the seed, owing, it is said, to new uses for it having been discovered. A superior process for the extraction of oil, and greater utility as a cattle food owing to improved methods of removing of husk are believed to be the reasons for the present demand. About 70 per cent. of the total export is to the United Kingdom, and the fact that the former exports of linseed to that country show no sign of returning to their normal dimensions, even with the large crops of last year, points to the increased use of cotton seed as a cattle food.

Silk.—This export trade viâ Bombay, amounting to over 4½ lákhs, has been practically established in the present year, and consists almost entirely of raw silk from Cashmere forwarded to England.

Wool.—The export of wool was of course affected by the lack of pasturage during the acute famine. The increase of the present year though it amounts to 8 per cent. does not bring the figures nearly up to the average of the years prior to 1900-1901. Nearly the whole exports go to the United Kingdom.

VII.—Manufactured Articles.

There is an extraordinarily heavy increase of 132,745,125 lbs. or 117 per cent. in quantity and Rs. 4,43,32,196 or 110 per cent. in value. This increase makes the present the best year of the decade. Increase in the exports to practically all countries has taken place, but in the case of China the phenomenal increase following so closely on the cessation of the recent disturbances is very remarkable.

Cotton Manufactures.—The total value of the exports is Rs. 66,75,729 against Rs. 58,67,929 of last year, showing an increase of Rs. 8,07,800 or 14 per cent. Of these, the most important item is grey piece-goods, the details of the exports of which are shown below for the last five years:—

It is very satisfactory to see that notwithstanding the disorganisation of the cotton trade owing to failure of crops, Bombay has managed to regain her position at Aden, which is her largest market, being the principal centre for distribution to the interior of Arabia. The only large drop is that of $2\frac{3}{4}$ lákhs in the exports to Abyssinia. Looking to the exports of cotton yarn and manufactures it is very apparent that the mills of the Presidency have been doing well.

A peculiar feature of the year is the relatively better prices realized for cotton manufactures than for yarn.

Wool Manufactures.—Though the trade shows a strong upward tendency during the period of five years the improvement has been confined to carpets and rugs which at present represent 12·18 lákhs out of the total of 12·96. Of this export of carpets and rugs 7·94 lákhs goes to United States and 3·88 to the United Kingdom.

In considering the fluctuations in the trade in specific articles, the restriction in the import and increase in the export of food stuffs in consequence of the cessation of famine was noticed. The distribution of trade was correspondingly affected; countries from which a casual supply was drawn to meet urgent necessaries have now reverted to their normal figures, while the improvement in the export of raw produce and in the import of manufactured articles, with returning prosperity, have restored the old markets to somewhat their former place. Owing to the removal of the disturbing influences in China, there has been a large increase in the trade in that direction with a corresponding decrease in the temporary markets which for a time absorbed it.

The value of the imports was in excess of that in the previous year by 7 per cent., and the import trade was divided between the principal countries in the following proportion in the two years 1900-1901 and 1901-1902 :—

	1900-1901.	1901-1902.
United Kingdom	51	55
Other Countries in Europe	20	23
Africa	9	7
America	2	1
Asia and Australia	18	14
Total ...	100	100

The value of the exports of Indian produce was this year in excess of that of 1900-1901 by 42 per cent., and the trade was divided between the principal countries in the following proportion :—

	1900-1901.	1901-1902.
United Kingdom	15·5	9
Other Countries in Europe	37	33
Africa	4	2·5
America	·5	·5
Asia and Australia	43	55
Total ...	100	100

The trade will now be considered in detail under some of the principal countries to which it belongs.

European Trade.

United Kingdom.

The proportion of the trade of the United Kingdom to the total trade of Bombay shows a very substantial decrease in comparison with last year. There was, however, an increase of 16 per cent. in the value of the import trade which practically restores it to its level before the famine, the increase being principally in coal, cotton piece-goods, machinery and millwork, copper, iron and steel, and woollen piece-goods. The export trade on the other hand has declined by about 19 per cent. from the comparatively high level last year. The decrease was chiefly due to a falling off in raw cotton, hides and skins, and animal bones. The increased trade in the last two items during the preceding two years was due to exceptional circumstances, while the decrease in the trade in raw cotton during the year under review was due to most of that staple having been diverted to China and Japan.

Other Countries in Europe.

In the import trade with these countries there was this year a large increase of 113 lákhs, the value having risen to 651 lákhs from 538 lákhs in 1900-1901. In this increase all the countries participate except Russia and Turkey. The augmentation of the trade is accounted for by increased imports of apparel received from Austria—Hungary, of alizarine and aniline dyes from Belgium, Germany, Holland and Italy, of glass and glass-ware from Austria—Hungary, of hardware from Belgium and Germany, of liquors (brandy) from France, of iron and steel from Belgium, of paper and pasteboard from Austria—

Hungary, of silk manufactures from France and Italy, of sugar from Austria—Hungary and Germany, and of toys and requisites for games and of woollen piece-goods from Germany. Sugar received from Austria—Hungary and Germany is responsible for an increase of 32 lákhs, and alizarine and aniline dyes from Belgium, Germany, Holland and Italy for an increase of 16 lákhs.

The decrease in the value of the imports from Russia was due to the low price of kerosine oil, a leading article in the trade. The quantity imported was actually larger, but there was a reduction in the value, the decrease being due to the cheaper method of import in bulk being more extensively employed. In the case of Turkey, the decrease was due to the disappearance of maize from the imports this year.

In the export trade, foreign merchandise is not of much importance, and the transactions were much the same as last year, but the value of Indian produce exported amounted to 1,175 lákhs as against 902 lákhs in 1900-1901, the increase being chiefly due to the very extensive transactions in oil-seeds, the value of which rose from 369 lákhs in 1900-1901 to 689 lákhs in the year under review. The seeds were supplied to almost all the principal countries. This increase was, however, counterbalanced to some extent by the restriction in the exports of raw cotton, horns, and animal bones and a total cessation of the trade in hides. The decrease in raw cotton alone amounted to 41 lákhs.

Africa and Adjacent Islands.

Egypt.—The fall in the imports is due to a curtailment of the trade in raw cotton, which was imported in considerable quantities in the preceding two years on account of exceptional circumstances. The export trade in Indian produce is limited, but the figures occasionally assume a large proportion when wheat, oil-seeds and other goods are shipped to Port Said and other ports in Egypt "for orders."

Mauritius.—The staple article of import from this Colony is sugar, which has declined both in quantity and value owing to the competition of bounty-fed sugar from Austria and Germany—the trade of the past two years being as follows :—

	Cwt.	Value, Rs.
1900-1901 ...	... 1,742,694	1,91,95,845
1901-1902 ...	... 1,535,791	1,60,72,254

The increase under exports was chiefly due to larger transactions in cotton goods and grain and pulse.

British East Africa (including Mombasa, Zanzibar and Pemba).—The two staple articles of import from these countries are cloves and ivory, the trade in the former of which was larger, while that in the latter was smaller, than in the previous year. Under exports there are also two principal items comprised in the trade : grain and pulse (chiefly rice and wheat flour) and cotton goods, Indian and Foreign, the trade under both of which was comparatively larger. The list of articles comprised in the above trade is a long one and the dimensions of the trade in them vary each year.

Other Countries in Africa.—The trade with these consists of imports of ivory, pearls and shells and cowries, and exports of cotton piece-goods and grain and pulse (chiefly rice and wheat flour). The import trade is not of a progressive character, but in the case of Portuguese East Africa—Mozambique, the figures were abnormal in the preceding two years on account of the fact that high rates of the Indian Markets drew considerable quantity of grain and oil-seeds to Bombay. Under exports there was increased trade with German East Africa and Natal; the exports consisting almost entirely of the various articles required by the Indian emigrants, and the figures show a return of the trade which suffered last year from high prices. With Mozambique and Abyssinia, however, exports have fallen off considerably owing to a restriction of the trade in cotton piece-goods and grain and pulse, probably due to other sources of supply or to accumulation of stocks.

Countries in America.

United States.—In the trade with this country there was a further reduction of the imports of kerosine oil, the quantity having come down to 185,264 gallons valued at Rs. 1,20,894 from 6,623,965 gallons in 1897-1898. The import of maize alluded to last year has entirely stopped, while in the export trade carpets and rugs (woollen) have been forwarded to a larger extent, and a quantity of manganese ore, valued at more than 2 lákhs, was sent for first time this year.

Countries in Asia.

China, Japan and Eastern Asia.—Raw silk, silk piece-goods, sugar and tea from China, matches and silk piece-goods from Japan, and tin from the Straits Settlements are the principal articles comprised in the imports, and the trade in all of them was less than in the previous year. Under exports there was a large augmentation of the trade in raw cotton forwarded to China and Japan, in cotton twist and yarn to China, and in cotton piece-goods to the Straits. In the exports of opium to China there was, however, a decrease amounting to 7,186 in chests and Rs. 1,05,29,914 in value.

Aden, Arabia, Persia and Turkey in Asia.—Pearls from Aden, Arabia and Persia, dates from Arabia, Persia and Turkey in Asia, dried fruit, raw cotton and raw wool from Persia are the important items in this trade, the imports under all of which show an increase, except raw cotton. The number of horses imported from Arabia, Persia and Turkey in Asia was this year 2,482 valued at Rs. 7,77,850 as against 2,151 valued at Rs. 7,14,300 in 1900-1901. In the export trade, cotton, twist and yarn of local manufacture, cotton piece-goods (Indian and Foreign), tobacco (unmanufactured), grain and pulse, hardware, metals, kerosine oil, spices, ginger and pepper, sugar and tea (Indian and Foreign) are the principal articles. The aggregate value of the export trade against each country was much in excess of the preceding year except in the case of Persia where the decrease was due to restricted shipments of cotton piece-goods and tea.

Australia.

Here, the small decrease under imports was due to a restriction in the trade in wheat. The exports, however, were larger owing to increased shipments of raw cotton, myrabolams and provisions, the only important items of the trade. The value of horses imported remained the same as last year, but the number was smaller.

GOLD.

Imports.—The imports registered against Egypt probably represent gold sent from the United Kingdom, but transhipped for export to Bombay at one of the ports in Egypt, such as Port Said or Suez; and the imports registered against Ceylon represent in like manner gold sent from Australia and transhipped at Colombo for export to Bombay.

Four-fifths of the gold imported from the United Kingdom consisted of bullion, the rest being sovereigns and other British coin, while all the gold from Egypt and Ceylon consisted of British coin. Of the gold received from Australia, one-fifth was bullion and the remainder British coin.

Exports.—The exports of gold bullion may have been partly checked by the refusal of the Postal Authorities since June last to receive nothing but very small quantities and thus prevent frauds being practised on the P. and O. Company.

Silver.

Imports.—Silver imported from the United Kingdom consisted almost entirely of bullion and from all other countries of Government of India rupees.

The increase in imports of silver this year is explained partly by the fact that those classes, who wear silver ornaments and who were compelled to part with them during the last two years owing to the stress of famine, have been replacing them.

Exports.—The largest part of the exports consisted of British dollars forwarded to Singapore and China and the remainder of Government of India rupees to British East Africa, German East Africa, Aden, Arabia, Ceylon and Persia.

The quantity of silver imported for the Mint, to be coined into British dollars, amounted in the year under review to the value of Rs. 4,22,16,189 as against Rs. 1,37,83,010 in 1900-1901.

The figures show a decrease of Rs. 2,14,20,662, or nearly 7 per cent. in the total Coasting Trade of the Presidency. This is chiefly attributable to a decrease in the imports of grain into the Port of Bombay from Calcutta and Rangoon. In fact, under the imports of Burmese rice alone there is a decrease of over 300 lákhs.

Both the Import and Export Coasting Trade is registered under two divisions—(1) Indian Produce, (2) Foreign Merchandise—and the transactions under each heading are shown below for the two years 1900-1901 and 1901-1902 :—

British Ports in other Provinces.

Bengal Presidency.—Almost all the principal articles comprised in the trade contribute to the decrease of 61 lákhs, of which however 40 lákhs was due to smaller imports of grain with the return of good harvests in this Presidency. Owing to a low level of prices the value of the coal imported fell from 104 to 100 lákhs, though the quantity was actually larger. There was a falling off of 1 lákh in the value of the imports of tea, probably due to the smaller outturn of the crop of 1900-1901 and of 3½ lákhs in the value of jute manufactures. The large stocks of old gunny bags which must have accumulated with the huge imports of grain last year are probably responsible for most of the latter decrease.

Madras Presidency.—This trade represents for the most part the produce of the Malabár Coast imported into the Bombay Presidency for local consumption or re-exportation to foreign countries, and is liable to fluctuate every year according to the state of the crops and the conditions of the market. The decrease in the year under review amounting to 27 lákhs was chiefly due to a large contraction of the trade in cocoanuts and cocoanut-kernel (12 lákhs), grain and pulse (6½ lákhs), groundnut oil (2 lákhs) and ghee (2½ lákhs), local production having probably made good the deficiency.

Burma.—To the decrease of 334 lákhs in this trade, rice alone contributes 301 lákhs and other grains 26 lákhs. The large trade in rice of the preceding year was a result of the scarcity in this Presidency and of speculation in grain arising therefrom, and the decrease in the present year was a natural result of returning prosperity, while raw cotton, cotton-seed and the other food-stuffs besides rice were received in smaller quantities for a similar reason. The trade in teakwood varied slightly, amounting in both years to over 27 lákhs.

Sind.—Raw cotton with an increase of 47 lákhs, the different kinds of grain with 36 lákhs and oil-seeds with 22 lákhs are the principal factors in the improvement of 100 lákhs in the imports from Sind. Decreases of 2 lákhs in indigo and 3½ in hides and skins took place. As a rule produce intended for export to foreign ports is sent in the same bottom from Karáchi on account of cheaper freights; in the case of oil-seeds, however, a certain amount is sent to Bombay for mixture with other varieties before shipment. Coasting Trade.

British Ports within the Bombay Presidency.

This trade represents the interportal transactions of the several ports in the Bombay Presidency, the imports of one port being the exports of another. The decrease of 15 lákhs in the trade is almost all accounted for by the diminution of the transactions in grain and pulse, the movements of which were naturally on a more restricted scale during the year under review on account of improved harvests.

Indian Ports not British.

The increase in the imports from Cutch, Káthiáwár, the Gáikwár's Territory and Cambay, which is shared in by all the principal articles comprised in the trade, evidences a partial recovery from the depression caused by the deficient harvests in Gujarát and the adjoining countries. The increase in the value of the imports from Káthiáwár, which is most noticeable, was chiefly due to raw cotton which rose from 7½ to 67 lákhs.

The trade with Goa represents for the most part the produce of the Southern Marátha Country brought by rail to Marmagoa and thence shipped to Bombay. The competition of the Southern Marátha and G. I. P. Railways with the sea route is probably responsible for the decrease of the trade, which has declined in practically every article except oil-seeds.

The trade with Travancore varies each year according to the state of the crops and the conditions of the market. In the year under review the principal fluctuations are decreases of 1½ lákhs each in pepper and copra and an increase of 2 lákhs in ginger. In the case of Pondicherry there has been a reduction in the imports of groundnut oil, which is the only important article of the trade.

EXPORTS.

The total export Coasting Trade under all the three heads mentioned above is noted in the following statement:—

Coasting Trade.

British Ports in other Provinces.

Bengal Presidency.—The trade in cotton twist and yarn and cotton piece-goods, which is liable to vary according to the state of the market at Calcutta or Bombay, shows on the whole a decrease of 15 lákhs. Of this amount 9 lákhs was in Indian twist and yarn and the remaining 6 lákhs is the net result of a decrease of 9½ lákhs in foreign and an increase of 3½ in Indian piece-goods. An expansion of the trade in salt, which is supplied from the salt-works around Bombay, ascribed to a low level of prices and favourable rates of freight, gives an increase of 3 lákhs, while a reduction of the trade in bell-metal, which formed the bulk of the trade recorded under metals (Indian Produce), due to a limited stock in the market of Bombay, is responsible for a decrease of nearly 12 lákhs.

Madras Presidency.—The improvement noticed in this trade last year has continued though there was this year a restriction in the exports of raw cotton, cotton twist and yarn and cotton piece-goods. The trade in grain and pulse was, however, larger owing probably to the improved state of the harvests in the Bombay Presidency. There is a large export of salt to Malabár from the salt-works in the districts adjoining Bombay; the shipments were larger by nearly 10 lákhs in the year under report than in 1900-1901 in consequence of low prices and favourable rates of freight. The trade in other articles has not varied much.

Burmah.—This trade was much the same as in the previous year, the only noticeable fluctuation being a falling off in the export of cotton twist and yarn. This decrease was, however, more than compensated for by increased transactions in cotton piece-goods of local manufacture.

Sind.—Eliminating the transactions in treasure from the totals of each year, there was an improvement this year in the trade in merchandise alone of about 65 lákhs, chiefly attributable to a large augmentation of the exports of cotton twist and yarn of local manufacture (7½ lákhs) and of cotton piece-goods, both Indian (33 lákhs) and foreign (27 lákhs). The interchange of merchandise between Bombay and Karáchi is considerable and transactions in treasure are on an equally extensive scale.

British Ports within the Presidency.

This interportal trade has already been noticed under imports.

Indian Ports not British.

The decrease in the exports to Cutch, Káthiáwár, Gáikwár's Territory and Cambay is almost entirely due to a restriction in the trade of food stuffs on account of better harvests in these countries. There is no very special feature about the fluctuations of trade with the other ports included under this heading.

TREASURE.

There has been a decrease of Rs. 9,70,282 in the import of treasure and an increase of Rs. 86,22,187 in the export. The latter is largely due to the remittance of cash to Karáchi, probably to pay for the increased quantities of raw cotton, wheat and oil-seeds imported this year from the Province of Sind.

The imports of gold were valued at Rs. 60,068 as against Rs. 85,796 and those of silver at Rs. 7,61,942 as against Rs. 17,06,496 in 1900-1901.

The exports of gold were valued at Rs. 13,06,485 as against Rs. 6,538 and those of silver at Rs. 88,11,159 as against Rs. 14,88,919 in 1900-1901.
